FROM GEN. BANRS' COMMAND.

(apt. Williams and five men were captured enemy while on an unauthorized scout lears by last in Virginia, near dam No. 4. There are grievous complaints by some of the giments, including the 12th Massachusetts, at non receipt of new tents, those now in use geing cufit for winter use. A complete Govgament telegraph line now extends from Algandria to Hagerstown, Md., including all the cannot on the Virginia shore, the War Department and the camps of Genera's Banks and latelligence from Harper's Ferry is, that the needs had constructed a bridge from the mainand to Kerr's Island in the Shenandoah, and brought off a locomotive and conveyed it to winchester. The rebel force at Martinsburgh is considerably augmented, and has grown quite inpudent along the river line.

The rebel battery which opened on Gen.
Leonard's pickets at Dam No. 5 last week, was a jection of Alburtis Wise's Artillery and a ection of Rock Bridge Artillery from Martintburgh. Their infantry amounted to 700 men and two Cavalry corps. The Infantry was conarea, should they attempt to cross the river to the battery, the temporary abandonment which was a feint.

On Menday Col. Leonard took two guns up to Fort Frederick above dam No. 5, to give the and lorce returning by railroad, a raking-About 9 o'clock a train came up, and when about 2 miles distant he opened upon it. The int short checked the train. The two succeed. ag slais struck the right cylinder of the engine, causing steam to escape in great volume. the train had no troops aboard, but those in charge made excellent time in escaping. At last accounts the train was still standing on the rack. Jackson's forces at Martinsburgh comrises 5000 troops well armed and provided for.

FROM MISSOURI.

Several citizens of Arkansas have reached folia during the past week, and enlisted in the Arkansas Company under Capt. Ware, late member of the Legislature from that State.— These men say there was a Union society in leard, Fulton, Independence and Searcey Counies, numbering 2500 men, which could have made an organized society in two weeks more, jut it was betrayed by a recent member and broken up and scattered. Many of these Union men have been arrested and taken to Little Rock. Some have been hanged, and a large number are now in the woods trying to effect their escape from the State.

John Hogan, ex-postmaster at St. Louis, who was arrested Saturday for embezzlement in a and published Monday evening, says his arrest was caused by a disagreement between him and the auditing officer of the General Pest Office, which might have been prevented by a prompter ramination of his accounts.

FROM NORTH CAROLINA.

The North Carolina Standard of the 4th learns from reliable sources that a Federal regi-ment had taken possession of Portsmouth, N. ... and that there are ten Yankee steamers in committed it has been the fault of too much Pamileo Sound.

Chicago, Dec. 5. The Bowling Green (Ky.) Courier says that Parson Brownlow was arrestof for treason bo the Confederate State Commissioners at Knoxville, on the 8th, and committed to jail. The Knoxville Register says tho rumer of an order from the rebel War Department for Brownlow's safe conduct north had created intense excitement.

New York, Dec. 16. The Express says the excitement on Change is intense beyond description. Breadstuffs are favorably affected, and all descriptions are firm. Many lots of cotton are withdrawn from the market, and there is but a slin array of samples on sale in the Broker's Offices. Saltpetre advanced from 11 to 15e per pound, and few holders would name any price. Brimstone is kept out of the market. Chemicals advanced. Bicarbonate of soda went np to le. Coffee and tea are all withdrawn from the market, or only offered at enormous prices .-Sugars offered sparingly. Sterling exchange mercased to 110.

Ealtimere, Dec. 16. Barque Agnes has arfived here and reports speaking the English brig Mary Morton, which reported that the Sumter and Iroquois had a severe engagement and that me of them, he did not know which, had put into Martinique to repair damages.

Uneinnati. Dec. 10. Our forces at the battle of Alleghany Camp numbered 1800. They harged upon the enemy and drove them back. A hot fire was kept up during the afternoon on both sides, and several brilliant charges were made by our men. During the night the enemy withdrew, burning everything they could not earry with them. Our loss is 20 killed and 30 wounded, while the rebel loss is 150 killed, including the field officer.

THIRTY-SEVENTH CONGRESS.

Mr. Summer presented several petitions asking that the slaves of the rebels may be emancipatd; also a petition from the Mayor of Boston and others asking for the repeal of the law in respect to Jewish Chaplains. Referred to the Military Committee.

Mr. Chandler presented a petition for the exchange of prisoners.

Mr. Ten Eyek offered a resolution that the present war is for the Union according to the Constitution; that the object of the war is to save the former and enforce the latter; that was so in the beginning and should be so to the last; that measures extreme, radical and disraptive in themselves, involving in a common ate the loyal and disloyal, should not be resorted to, and that in suppressing treason the Govtrament cannot prove a traitor to the organic law of the land. Laid over.

quire into the expediency of providing a uniform manner for dealing with slaves of rebels, and those made prisoners or escaping from their master. Agreed to.

Mr. Lane of Indiana offered a resolution that the Judiciary Committee be requested to provide by law so that aidors and abettors of treason may be prevented from bringing suits for the collection of debts in Courts of the Cnited States. Agreed to.

Mr. Sumner offered a resolution that the commissioners of patents inquire if any additional egislation is necessary to secure persons of Atrican descent the right to take out patents. -Agreed to.

Mr. Wilkin on of Minnesota, offered the following:

Whereas, Jesse D. Bright, Senator from Indiana, did on the first of March last, write a letter to Jefferson Davis, [a letter was here read introducing a person as having an improvement in fire-arms,] and whereas such a letter is evidence of disloyalty, therefore Resolved, That Jesse D. Bright be expelled from the Senate of the United States. Mr. Cowan of Penn., moved to refer the subect to the Com. on the Judiciary. Mr. Bright rose and said, perhaps it was not improper for him to say a few words as to the truth of the charges making against him through a licentious press. It had been charged that he had absented himself from the Senate from fear of such a resolution as had just been offered. It was not so. He had been confined to his room by illness. He had no objection to the resolution. He believed that in a service of seventeen years he had done nothing inconsistent with his duty as an American Senator, as a citizen, or as a gentleman. He courted an investigation into all his acts, both public and private. Mr. B. then asked to have a letter read which was an answer to the one already read. (The letter was then read.) It was to Mr. Fitch, saying that he (Mr. Bright) was opposed to abolitionists, but had always been for the preservation and integrity of the Union. Also, that he was opposed to the coercive policy of the Government. The resolution expelling

Mr. Trumbull of Ill., called up the resolution asking the Secretary of State if persons had been arrested in the loyal States, and by what

Mr. Bright, was referred to the Com. on the

Mr. Dixon of Ohio, opposed the resolution. He though it best not to go into such questions in times like these, when the very safety of the Country is threatened. The time has passed by when this abominable rebellion could be crushed

Mr. Trumbull said he was as cager as any one to crush the rebellion. He would not waste the power of the Government in arresting persons in the loyal States, but would strike with the power of 600,000 men and crush the rebelilon to the earth. It seemed the very essence of despotism if men could be arrested by telegraph without power to reply or to have a trial.

Mr. Dixon said the resolution seemed to question the propriety of the acts of a Department of the Government, but he would not make such a question at the present time. He denied there had been any usurpation or despotism. There had been exercised extraordinary power from necessity. The most dangerous men now were those men who in the North were trying to convince the people that nobody ought to be disturbed at the North. If any fault had been

Mr. Wilson of Mass., was sorry the Senator from Illinois had introduced such a resolution. The Senator knows that the Secretary of State made arrests by order of the President of the United States. If the Senator did not like the orders of the President why not bring in a bill to clothe the President with all proper authority. The Government by the exercise of this authority saved the Country in the dark hour of gloom when treason was abroad in Washington, and so was saved the State of Maryland. There were traitorous men all over the North who expressed sympathy with traitors. Then the President through the Secretary of State had these persons arrested, and the turning of the doors of Fort Lafayette silenced innumerable traitors in the loyal States. Nine hundred and ninety-nine out of every one thousand applauded and thanked the Government for this action. Why then come into the Senate and blame the Government for saving the Country; for he declared it had done more in this way to save the Country, than had the whole military force to this hour. The Government had been quite too lenient, and it was time that more vigorous and determined action was had.

Mr. Hale of N. H. advocated the resolution as eminently right and proper.

Mr. Kennedy of Md. favored it. Mr. Howe of Wis. offered a resolution that a Committee be appointed to inquire into the circumstances of the escape of the Sumter from Port Royal, Martinique. After an executive session, the Senate adjourned.

The memorial of the Legislative Assembly of Colorado, asking for the establishment of a branch mint in that Territory, was referred to the Committee of Ways and Means.

Mr. Conway of Kansas, rising to a question of privilege, alluded to the dialogue between himself and Mr. Fouke on Thursday. The former had included the battle of Belmont as in the series of defeat to our arms. Mr. Fouke had ineffectually asked Mr. Harding, who had the floor, to yield to him that he might, in his own language, nail the falsehood to the counter.

Mr. Conway had explained that he obtained his information from the newspapers, and as he did not at that time hear the offensive remarks with distinctness he now desired to know wheher Mr. Fouke intended to make the charge of talschood personally applicable to him. newspaper paragraph to that effect excepting in the Chicago Tribune, which was afterward contradicted. He then made a brief statement con cerning the battle of Belmont to show that it was unkind in Mr. Conway to insist on characterizing it as a defeat. He would permit the gentleman to make the application of the lan-guaze he had uttered, as he was the only judge

Mr. Conway said Mr. Fourke had refused to in the matter. avail himself of his generosity, and he submitted it to the caldid judgment of the House whether such conduct did not clearly manifest a deliberate purpose to bring on a personal coilision whout cause, and wnether such conduct was uo: on

Mr. Richardson immediately called Mr. Conway to order. He said this was not the piace to settle such difficulties.

Mr. Fouke wanted to say one mord. Mr Stavens and others objected.

The speaker informed Mr. Fourke that no de qate was in order. Here the matter ended.

Therefore, be it Resolve: as the sente of this House, that it is the duty of the President to now firmly maintain the stand thus taken, approving and adopting the act of Capt. Wilkes, in spite of any menace or demands of the British Government, and that the House pledges its full support to him in upholding now the honor, and vindicating the courage of the Government and people of the United States against a foreign power.

Mr. Vallandigham moved the previous ques tion. Mr. Fenton of N. Y. hoped the resolution would be referred to Com. on Foreign Affairs. The motion to refer was agreed to-108 to 16.

FROM WASHINGTON.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17. The Herald's dispatch says, the Brazilian Minister gave a dinner last evening, at which quite a number of the Diplomatic Corps were present. Of course the seizure of Mason and Slidell was discussed in a non-committal way. The impression was that England would make a demand for the release of Mason and Slidell, but that a lengthy correspondence would settle the matter without a war.
